

These Endless Thoughts

© Mario Vickram Sen,

The moon in the sky, the raindrops that fall,
I try and I try to forget, but inevitably I recall,
The leaves on the trees in the early morning all covered with dew...
Theses endless thoughts remind me of you.

The tears in my eye, the pain in my heart,
The whispering sigh on my lips telling me that now we're apart,
The feeling of sadness that follows me around whatever I do...
Theses endless thoughts remind me of you.

Bridge:

I try to hide in places where, those memories can't follow.
But just the same they find me there,
And fill my mind with such despair,
Until my heart is hollow

The moment I wake, whenever I dream,
Each breath that I take is a prayer that this thing cannot be what it seems,
I try to convince myself your devotion to me is still true,
These endless thoughts remind me of you.
